

Liability concerning Free Software, Technical recommendations and Installation at an EdLUG Install Fest

The undersigned has chosen to accept Free software and to have that installed on their computer. The definition of Free software includes Free Software, Open Source Software and Linux. It is understood that this is installed and used at the owner's own risk and that the owner has granted permission to install the software on the hardware involved. It is also understood that the software comes with:

- no guarantee,
- no installation or ongoing technical support
- The person that is doing the installation can have a varying degree of expertise in the subject and the results are not guaranteed

EdLUG, EdLUG(Outreach), volunteers of these groups or the person that is installing the software for you is not responsible for anything concerning the installation of the software and holds no liability for:

- Any software
- Any data lost or corrupted
- Any Hardware Malfunction or destruction

Date:

Software received by:

Witness: